Love and Logic: Parenting a Child with Special Needs

This DVD offers highly effective and easy-to-learn techniques to help you raise happier and healthier children, whether they have allergies, asthma, a bleeding disorder, diabetes, an injury or other special need. $39.95. www.parentingchildrenwithhealthissues.com

While geared toward families with children living with serious medical conditions, the information is applicable to all children. They use Cystic Fibrosis as the theme of the video, but the techniques and ideas help you teach and empower any child to take personal responsibility for their health and well-being. These tools help us parents lay a foundation for our children, allowing us to feel confident that our children will leave the nest and make wise decisions for their health and well-being, whether going into first grade or college.

Soft Gear Booster Chair

Made to resist germs, encourage good posture, is easy to clean and cushion-y comfortable. Ages 3+. $34.99, www.SoftGearFoam.com

I was very surprised by how much both my children—who have never been fond of booster seats—love this one! I am very impressed with how safe the seat is. It's made of a material that naturally suctions itself to chairs and our kitchen bench, making it very convenient. I don't have to worry that it will slide off our bench or other finished chairs. Both my children say it's comfy to sit in and it doesn't make them feel like a "baby." It reminds me of a big kid Bumbo. It's not just great for use at mealtime but also for coloring and reading at the kitchen table. I have a feeling I'll be purchasing another one to avoid any conflicts over who gets to sit in it. I don't have anything negative to say about this product because it was such a huge hit and I would highly recommend it for the child that's in preschool to early elementary ages. My kids love it.
